

I've been listening to 100.1 KLOVE for many years in San Diego. They provide the kind of programming I like as a part of my daily Christian devotional life. This programming is not available to me from any other source. With all the secular programming on air, KLOVE is one sanctuary where my spiritual needs, and the needs of my family, are met whenever we want to tune in.